THE demonstration in honor of the capture of Richmond and the surrender of Lee and his army, by the people of Bellaire, on Friday evening last, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind it has been our pleasure to witness for many years. The illumination, which was a spontaneous affair without previous consultation or arrangement, was a complete success; almost every house in the business part of the town, no matter what the political sentiment of the occupant, was thoroughly illuminated. In the early part of the evening the firing of a signal, and later the beautiful exhibition of fireworks aroused and brought out the people of the town and neighborhood, until the streets were filled with people, of all classes and conditions, excited and jubilant over the news of the Nation's triumphs. It was pleasing to see such a general manifestation of joy, and it contrasted strangely with the demonstrations of a similar character about St. Clairsville, where one party not only refuses to take part in the public demonstrations of joy, but refuse to put out the American flag on occasions of Union triumphs. After the exhibition of fireworks was over the people assembled in the open space near the depot and were addressed by G. L. Cranmer of Wheeling, and C. L. Poorman and R. H. Cochran, of St. Clairsville, and from the enthusiastic cheering of the crowd the addresses were acceptable to the large crowd who listened to them. During the evening R. H. Cochran, Esq., sang an original song that was greeted with immense applause, by the listening throng. At a late hour the crowd slowly and reluctantly separated for home, all feeling no doubt that they had reason to rejoice and feel good.

THE "Local Editor" of the Gazette, who usually holds up one of the pillars of the Court House during the progress of a Union meeting, says, in the last issue of that paper, speaking of the meeting held in this place to rejoice over the victories of our army in the capture of Richmond and Petersburg, "The Abolition preachers, J. B. Johnston and James Thornburn, with their peculiar friends, had a justification in the Court House on last Saturday evening, over the late battles in Virginia."

Now when the writer of the above says that justification in the Court House was over the late battles in Virginia, he knows he is guilty of malicious, premeditated lying. That all meetings held in this town or in this county, to rejoice in the triumph of the Union cause over the rebellion, are held by the friends of Revs. J. B. Johnston and James Thornburn, no one will dispute, for the "alignments," the "Blue Lights," the "F. doralists," who compose the rebel sympathizing party in and around St. Clairsville, never rejoice over a Union triumph.

THE 14TH OF APRIL.—Last Friday was the fourth anniversary of the surrender of Fort Sumter. It was suitably commemorated by our people. In the morning religious services were held in the M. E. Church. Rev. J. B. Johnston, of the U. P. Church, preached a powerful sermon, after which the pastor, Rev. W. K. Marshall, favored the audience with some spirited and timely remarks upon the state of the country. During the exercises the choir sang with spirit the stirring national air, "America," "Star Spangled Banner," "Marseillaise," &c. In the evening a very large meeting was assembled at the Court House. Gen. Weir occupied the chair. Eloquent and forcible speeches were made by Clifford A. Rick, Esq., Capt. Danford, Judge Cowen, and the Chairman, Rev. J. B. Johnston was also called out, but excused himself from speaking. As usual, the boys were as rude and unmannerly as possible.

In Centerville, this county, the Copperheads openly rejoiced when it was announced that our beloved President was assassinated.

At Uniontown, we are informed, the Copperheads, on learning that the loyal men proposed to jolly over the capture of Lee, armed themselves to prevent it. This is in harmony with the course of that party for the last four years. Men who will invoke God's curse upon our noble soldiers, who daily have prayed for the success of Jeff. Davis, who have denounced the defenders and friends of the Government, as murderers, assassins, tyrants and fiends, are fit political associates of the assassins, who, when they could not destroy the nation, must contaminate their infamy by murdering its Saviors.

DURING the past week we have received from the Second Auditor of the Treasury Department, Certificates of amount due for Bounty and Back Pay, in favor of Jacob Anderson, St. Clairsville; Mrs. Harriet Rowles, Jacobburg; Joshua Cope, Colebrook; Wm. Bowles, Warnock's; Mrs. Jane S. Eisher, Hopedale, Iowa, and Mrs. Ann Hinkle, Glencoe.

During the past nine months we have forwarded over one hundred applications for Bounty, Back Pay and Pensions, and have had the very best success. Persons having claims of this kind will find after while that time and money may be saved by placing them in our hands for collection instead of sending them to agents at a distance or agents at home.

We understand that Rev. J. B. Johnston, of the U. P. Church, will preach a sermon on next Sabbath day on the character of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

A GENEROUS ACT.—Some two weeks ago, Chaplain Ross, of the 15th Ohio, published an appeal in THE CHRONICLE for reading matter for the men of that regiment. A few days thereafter the Ladies' Christian Commission of the U. P. Church of St. Clairsville subscribed for ten copies of THE CHRONICLE for the regiment, and had them sent as the Chaplain requested. This generous act will be appreciated by the gallant veterans of the 15th.

Now, who will pay for ten copies for the 98th, for the 43d, for the 25th, and for the other regiments in which Belmont County is so largely represented?

DEATH OF MRS. BENTLEY.—We have heretofore neglected to notice the death of Mrs. Bentley, wife of Major Solomon Bentley, which occurred some two weeks ago. Mrs. Bentley had lived to an advanced age. She was a consistent and faithful member of the U. P. Church of St. Clairsville.

Incidents of the Last Days of President Lincoln's Life.

WASHINGTON, April 16.

The following incidents of the last days of President Lincoln's life have been obtained from several sources:

His son, Capt. Lincoln, breakfasted with him on Friday morning, having just returned from the capitulation of Lee, and the President passed a happy hour listening to all the details. While at breakfast he heard that Speaker Colfax was in the house and he sent word that he wished to see him immediately. He conversed with him for nearly an hour about his future policy as to Reconstruction, which he was about to submit to the Cabinet.

Afterwards he had an interview with Mr. Hale, Minister to Spain, and several Senators and Representatives.

At 11 o'clock, the Cabinet and General Grant with him, had one of the most interesting and important Cabinet meetings held since his first inauguration, when the future policy of the administration was harmoniously and unanimously agreed on, and Secretary Stanton said he felt that the government was stronger than at any previous period since the rebellion commenced. In the afternoon the President had a long and pleasant interview with Gen. Oglesby, Senator Yates and other leading citizens of his State. In the evening Mr. Colfax called again, at his request, and Mr. Ashmun, of Mass., who presided over the Chicago Convention of 1860, was also present.

To them he spoke of his visit to Richmond, and when told that much uneasiness was manifested at the North while he was at the rebel capital for fear that some traitor might shoot him he replied joyfully that he would have been alarmed himself if any other person had been President and gone there, but he did not feel any danger whatever. The conversation turned on a matter of business with Ashmun. He made the remark that he saw Mr. Ashmun was surprised, and immediately, with his well known kindness of heart, said:

"You did not mean what you inferred and I will take it all back, and apologize for it." He afterwards gave Mr. Ashmun a card to admit himself and friend early the next morning to converse further about it.

Turning to Mr. Colfax, he said: "You are going with Mrs. Lincoln and me to the theatre, I hope." But Mr. Colfax had other engagements, expecting to leave the city next morning.

He then said to Mr. Colfax, "Mr. Sumner has the 'ravel' of the Confederate Congress, which he got at Richmond, and he had to the Secretary of War, but I insisted that he must give it to you, and you tell him to hand it over."

Mr. Ashmun alluded to the 'ravel,' which he still had and which he had used at the Chicago Convention, and the President and Mrs. Lincoln, who was also in the parlor, rose to go to the theatre.

It was half an hour after the time they had intended to start and they spoke about waiting half an hour longer for the President, who went out and returned, and he did not wish the people to be disappointed, as they both had been advertised to be there. At the door he stopped and said, "Colonel Fox do not forget to tell the people in the mining regions, as you pass through them, what I said you were coming about the development when peace comes, and I will telegraph you at San Francisco."

He shook hands with both gentlemen with a pleasant good bye, and left the executive mansion never to return to it alive.

THE bearing of the deserters who passed through Washington is said to be very abject. The spirits of these poor fellows are broken by years of hunger and suffering. Many of them, for the first time in their lives, are seeking for work.

CERTAIN members of the General Assembly of Virginia are out in a call for the reassembling of that body on or before the 25th instant, promising, on the part of the Federal authorities, safe conducts to and from Richmond.
